Description
Provide a short description of the event and its activities.
Since the target group of the workshop turned out to be larger (59 people) than initially planned (30 people), two workshops were held on the same day and location. The attendees of this first event were 30 third year students (mostly female) of the Bachelor's Degree in Social Work at the Pablo

Olavide University, in Seville.

The event was conducted in accordance with the developed workshop methodology. It began with a presentation of the workshop by the course teacher, followed by a presentation of the project by the facilitating team.

Next, a warm-up dynamic was carried out to identify previous ideas of the attendees regarding youth participation in politics, the European Union and its role in the lives of young Spaniards.

Through group work, it was possible to identify the profile of young non-voters, the possible reasons and emotions that accompany their decision were investigated, and strategies were identified to develop an effective communication campaign. All groups agreed on identifying social networks as the most appropriate means to reach Spanish youth, especially through TikTok, YouTube and Instagram.

Likewise, during the workshop the students were informed of the possibility of participating in the video contest with policy proposals. Several people showed their interest in participating, motivated by the possibility of winning a study trip to Brussels.

Over the next few weeks they will be monitored to confirm that they make their policy proposals to the EU.
